SUBJECT: Payment of Wage Differential under MC # 17, s. 1976

The general rule is to charge the wage differential against the same fund in which the basic pay is being paid. If the basic pay is drawn from Project Funds, the wage differential should likewise be charged to the same Fund.

For wage differentials of employees whose basic pay is charged to Fund 101, the following guidelines should be observed:

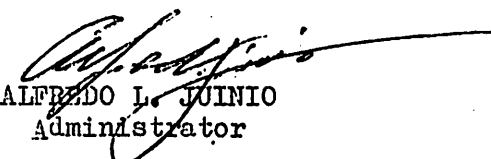

1. The Cost of Living Allowance for the 4th quarter of fiscal year, 1976, which have already been sub-allotted, should be utilized in the payment of the wage differential.
2. For purposes of computation of the adjusted daily rate under MC # 17, s. 1976, the amount pertaining to the Cost of Living Allowance shall be P2.27. This amount should be charged against the Cost of Living Allowance already sub-allotted to the respective field office.

The Central Office will release the sub-allotment advice corresponding only to additional amounts needed as shown hereunder:

Minimum Laborer = Grade I	P11.00
Present daily rate (without BC 240)	P8.00
Cost of Living Allowance	2.27 10.27
Additional amount needed	P 0.73

Strict compliance is enjoined.
