SUBJECT : ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE COVERAGE

The Land Bank of the Philippines has launched a program to assist farmers' cooperatives in mitigating the effects of the El Nino phenomenon.

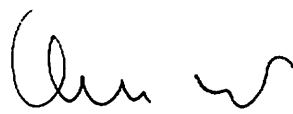

One requirement for farmers to be able to avail of Land Bank loan or be eligible for PCIC insurance coverage is NIA's certification as to the availability of irrigation water during a particular cropping season.

The Land Bank seeks that such certification should be based on actual situation and thoroughly validated. This is to minimize the risks on their investment and ensure that farmers would have a profitable crop production.

The sample format of the certification to be issued is attached. It should contain information such as the name of irrigation systems, type, location, barangays covered, area covered. The certification should specify if the area is programmed or unprogrammed during the season and whether it would be effectively irrigated, partially irrigated or rainfed.

You are advised to be discreet in issuing certifications for the success of Land Bank's program and benefit of the farmers.

Be guided accordingly.
